

Back to Hey Mexico, Happy Birthday

Hey Mexico, Happy Birthday

September 01, 2010

Kathryn Folliott

This year is a big one for Mexico, as it celebrates 200 years of independence.

And if you love Mexico but want a break from the east coast 'scene', the west coast is just another hour or so by plane and a world away from Cancun's high-octane revelry.

On the Baja Peninsula, the Hotel Rancho Buena Vista, East Cape Los Cabos harkens back to the 1950s with a classic resort experience: no TVs, no phones, just plenty of relaxation. The Choose Your Own Adventure package, from $560 per person (all prices U.S.) includes three nights accommodation in an oceanfront bungalow, three meals daily and a choice of two excursions, including a Sea of Cortez fishing trip, a Cabo Pulmo snorkelling trip or a zipline canopy tour to Miraflores. See www.ranchobuenavista.com.

And in Mazatlan, starting Nov. 1, Las Villas Hotel offers adventure on the links with a Golfer's Paradise package, priced from $750 per couple with three nights oceanfront accommodation, four rounds of golf, dinner for two and daily breakfast. See www.mazatlanhotellasvillas.com.